

WRITEUP

cos and sin:

My results were most accurate around zero, but diverged near the ends of the range.

This is because I used the simplified and rewritten taylor series that was provided tan:

my tan tests were extremely accurate, which can also be explained by the fact that i used to taylor series provided exp:

my exp tests were most accurate of all. I used an epsilon of 10^{-11}

